Governor Wilson declared that he could not see how a scholar could be a conservative. The one thing that scholarship cannot do is to stand still, he said. It must press forward, stage after stage, in never-ending stages. The changes of the immediate future will be made by the young men of the country. oldest banks in New York, the Phoenix National and the Chatham National, have completed a merger and to-morrow will begin a new and joint career as the Phoenix and Chatham National Bank, in the quarters of the Chatham at Broadway and John Street. The Phoenix, which had a career of ninetywill be made by the young men of the country.

"Do not deceive yourselves by literary theories," said the Governor.

"The so-called radicalism does not propose to destroy, but to restore our form of government. We all know what reforms we want, but what I am interested in is how we are to get them. Both parties have promised the reforms, but neither has offered a method by which they may be obtained.

"I have a certain respect for the Republican party. A party that has a long sequence of years of success deserves a certain amount of respect, even if it is only respect for its histrionic ability in carrying off a succussful bluff. The theory of the Republican party is impossible, while the theory of the Democratic party, which is to serve the general interest, is bound to prevail." nine years, was the first bank with which the late Junius Spencer Morgan allied himself and his son, J. Pierpont Morgan, was a charter member of its directory when it became a national bank. The Chatham had done business for sixty-one years. The capital and surplus of the Phoenix and Chat-ham National Bank is $3,000,000, and its resources are more than $20,000.

JOHN GARDNER MISSING

Police Asked to Scarch for Aged Manufacturer.

New York, February 22.—The police and newspapers were appealed to today to aid in a search for John Gardner, one of the founders of the Union League Club, of this city, and a prominent iron manufacturer. He has been missing only since 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when he left the offices of the Eckford from Works, on Market Street, and presumably started for his home in Brooklyn; but in view of the fact that he is a man of eighty years and regular habits, his relatives and friends are almost certain he must have met with a serious accident or foul play.
